Welcome Beloved,

We invite you to place your left hand on your heart and take a deep breath. Allow yourself to effortlessly breathe as you anchor into the purity of love, truth, and innocence that you are.

Your presence is so welcome in this Temple of the Rose. It is safe for all of you to be here. It is here in the still-point of immaculate conception that we reawaken our connection to our pillar priestesses; Mary Magdalene, Mother Mary, Lady Isis, Hathor, Inanna-Ishtar, and Astarte.

We invite you to place your right hand on your womb. Take another deep breath into your womb. Allow yourself to trust the intuitive process of your unique blossoming and blooming into the most in-depth remembrance of the ancient unraveling of The Rose Lineage. One velvety rose petal at a time.

Softening, listening, feeling, healing, forgiving, setting boundaries, befriending our inner thorns, and fully appreciating the exquisite beauty beckoning from within.

We are all of the rose, ever-unfolding into the infinite bliss of pleasure encapsulated in every moment. We are born of this sacred essence, from the pure erotic innocence that lay within every form, facet, and fiber of our beings, opening and dissolving into existence.

To know the Rose is to know thyself. Sacred, Sovereign, Sensual, Safe, and Stable. The Royal Empress of the Rose. We are all born of the Rose, my lineage is of the Rose, and I genuinely believe if you have found your way here that your lineage is of the Rose too. We are all devotees of the Divine Mother, Daughters of The Rose Lineage, here to honor the beauty way, with grace and ease we receive, walking the path paved in rose petals.

An arm outstretched from the Rose Womb Heart is a powerful gesture of reclamation. May you feel at home in this vibration, the sanctity of safety. May your heart continue to serve the highest needs of everything that has a Rose.

May you know your strength in the madness and the fire. May you return to the womb of the sacred holy Mother, pure love and rebirth awaits you.

We are sealing you in the succulent protection of the codes of the Rose Ankh.

Welcome Home to Your Rose Womb Heart!

What is the Venusian Rose Temple Arts?

The Venusian Rose Temple Arts are a set of temple teachings of a template that lives within your body. They are here to teach you that you are indeed a temple. This sacred temple template is a transmission from the trinity of teachers that live within your body. It has the direct blueprint on how to awaken you into the highest version of your Feminine Christ form so you may support the awakening on this planet at this time.

This template has been gifted to us from the planet Venus, our planet of love, beauty, sensuality, duality, darkness, and war. The feminine has many facets, forms, and phases of her existence, and she shows her many faces through her expressions of emotions, movements, and sounds.

Our planet Venus is an orbiting rose of pure remembrance. She teaches us what has been lost for thousands of years. She shows us how we need to love ourselves, our loved ones, and this sacred planet earth so we may remember that our bodies are a living and breathing altar of love. She is the dualistic deity of Divine Love.

Through deeply connecting to the divine mystery from within we understand that our most potent initiation into life is through our own five senses. By aligning our senses with the magic of the five elements we become baptized into being.

To know the feminine is to know and love all of her facets, forms, and faces as sacred, as they are our own. Not many people on this planet even come close to knowing the true exquisite embodiment that is the Divine Feminine. Even a woman who has a female body most likely will never truly know what it means to meet the feminine within her being let alone indulge in her truly unique feminine essence. Not many of us will get to meet her in this life because we have not been taught how to truly hold space for her to emerge from within.

The true feminine will only appear to meet you when you can surrender into the still point of immaculate conception, the moment in between where melted softness and sacred safety meet in union. She will whisper to you the poetry of the most breathtaking beauty you have ever felt, heard, tasted, or seen. Allow her to slowly, ever so gently, and ever so softly enter into your being. The pause between moments is where you will find her, sitting on rose petals of empty presence, awaiting your arrival into the reclamation of your exquisite divine essence. Kiss her feet in everlasting devotion, for she is the woman you have chosen to come here to be. You are already her.

What is a Venusian Rose Priestess?

She is a daughter of the Rose. A woman of devotion, love, truth, peace, purity, and the utmost divine service. She knows her body is a living and breathing altar of love; she honors it as so. She is both human and holy, walking the way of the Rose. The beauty way that honors her most authentic, raw, real, and vulnerable expressions so she may radiate that into the world. She listens to the poetry of her heart and follows the whispers of her womb, anchoring daily into her ever-evolving embodiment of the divine mother's love.

Guided by the orbiting star of remembrance, she walks softly upon this sacred earth honoring Gaia Sophia with each step while celestial singing the Sophianic songs of the stars into existence with each word she speaks.

A true protectress of the temple template of The Venusian Rose Temple Arts that lay within her body, she carries the secrets of the Rose within her rose womb heart. Her integrity, dedication, and compassion are unwavering; she emanates the wisdom of many moons, countless cycles, phases, and facets of the feminine.

A Venusian Rose Priestess connects deeply to the divine mystery from within. She understands that her most potent initiation into life is through her own five senses, and aligns them with the magic of the five elements. Through this act of unity from within she becomes baptized into being. She is the purest essence of The Venusian Rose, and she dances her sacred dance of divine union. She knows that her true beloved is internal and eternal.

*She is a daughter of The Rose Lineage,
A devotee of the Divine Mother; She leaves a legacy of love.*

What is the Sisterhood of the Rose?

Tens of thousands of years ago in the Golden Age of Atlantis, Rose priestesses of The Divine Mother Goddess were gathering in councils of twelve. Each council composed of twelve women, creating one hundred and forty-four women in total. Each council of the original twelve women was loosely organized into the four cardinal directions of North, South, East, and West to anchor the energy of love, peace, and harmony across the planet.

Members of the Sisterhood of the Rose were and still are wisdom keepers of The Rose Lineage Mysteries. The Rose is the symbol of the Divine Mother Goddess in all her many forms, facets, and phases of her embodied expressions.

The Rose is often the first thing that draws a person into a relationship with the Sisterhood but the magic and energy of the Goddess vibration and the Sisterhood of the Rose then extends to us cosmic relationships with the planet Venus, and certain stars like Sirius and Shambhala.

The Sisterhood of the Rose acts as an earthly custodian of the sacred wisdom of the Divine Feminine, The Venusian Rose Temple Arts, and the Rose Mystica Records.

The Divine Mother Goddess was expressed as a Rose for thousands of years and within the Rose, all creation is encoded. The Rose Lineage is the manifestation of the feminine essence. This essence has manifested in different generations and in different ways across all the nations of the world, producing with it variations of the same theme that has been carried forth by the Sisterhood of the Rose and the Brotherhood of Light (or commonly known as the Templar Knights).

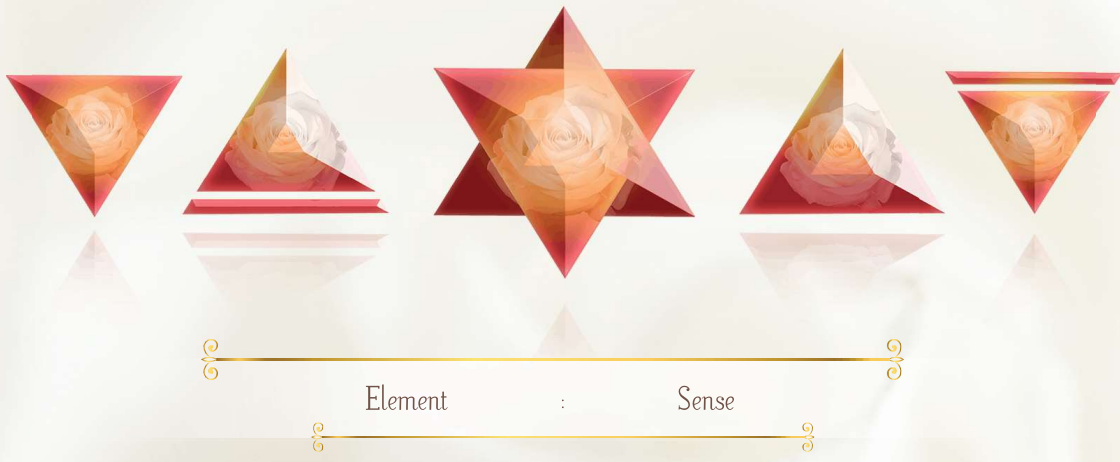

Who is Gaia Sophia

Sophia is the central pivot of creation and represents the feminine aspect of all things. She is Wisdom Incarnate, the Goddess of all those who are wise. She is the mother of all. She is who went to the deepest depths of the darkness and pierced through the veils beyond all illusion and confusion. She who birthed love, faith, and hope onto this planet.

It is only through her eyes we are truly reborn, allowing ourselves to sincerely open to hearing her song. It is through her scent that we remember the true rose queen resonance. When drinking in her nectar we taste pure perfection, ready to be sanctified into our sovereign divinity.

Sophia Gaia is true gnosis, she is everything and she is nothing, she is known and nameless, she is the sound between the sound, and she is the sacred pause between it all. She is the living and breathing altar of existence. She is you, she is me, and she is everything we see!

Home, Whole, and Holy Clearing Prayer

I cleanse and clear my mind, body, and soul from all vampiric, draining and lower vibrational energies, frequencies, situations, and or relationships. (x3)

I call all parts of my mind, body, and soul home to myself. I release any agreement, contracts, curses, and vows in all lifetimes, across all dimensions and timelines that are keeping me from stepping into the fullest exquisite radiance of my Rose Empress embodiment. (x3)

I honor my body as a Rose Temple where the Holy Father, Mother, God & Goddess Unite in Holy Matrimony. (x3)

I am Union, I am the very essence of devotion in motion, I am a living breathing prayer of this Holy Love. (x3)
